

FVCC Foundation 2024 Innovation Grant Application

Deadline: Friday, February 16, 2024

From a Kubi virtual learning tool, to an interdisciplinary art performance in partnership with the Hockaday Museum of Art, to an undergraduate research presentation at the Botanical Society of America meeting in Alaska, these are just a few of the projects that are made possible by Innovation Grants.

Overview

As part of our mission to support programs at FVCC, the Foundation funds innovative projects that promise to improve the student experience. All areas of the college are welcome to apply, and collaborative projects between departments, academic divisions, industry partners or community groups are encouraged.

For assistance in developing your grant application, contact the Foundation office at 406.756.3632 or foundation@fvcc.edu.

Funding

The Foundation Board of Directors and Associates may approve up to $50,000 for 2024 Innovation Grants.

In 2024: We are offering two (2) grants for up to $10,000 each to provide additional funding for more complex proposals. Remaining proposals will be awarded up to $5,000.

Funding Priorities

Successful proposals will address at least one of the following priorities:

1. Adoption of instructional strategies, technologies or projects that will shift the student learning experience. Projects replicating research-backed, best-practice strategies will be prioritized. Previously funded projects include:
 - Career and Technical Education (CTE) Student Exploration - Sarah Benedict
 - Reach Everyone and Teach Everyone with Universal Design for Learning - Jodi Harms
 - Sharp Aquos Board for Math and Sciences Tutoring Center - Clinton Holman
 - Tech in Teaching - Eliza Thomas
2. Creative projects that add new opportunities for students that demonstrate FVCC as a college-of-choice for our community. Previously funded projects include:

- Scent of 1000 Rains - Rich Haptonstall
 - Undergraduate Research Presentations at the Botanical Society of America Meeting - Mirabai McCarthy
3. Grants for one-time local events that engage K-12, four-year colleges or universities, businesses, organizations and individuals with FVCC academic projects and/or programs. One-time event proposals must include a business plan that will sustain the project if it is repeated in the future. Previously funded projects include:
- Outreach for Medical Laboratory Technician (MLT) Program - Denise Pacovsky

The Foundation will not consider proposals that could be funded from traditional college sources. For example, routine purchases of supplies or equipment will not be funded.

Application Timeline

November 2023:

- Application opens.

February 2024:

- Applications due by 5pm Friday, February 16. Email your application to foundation@fvcc.edu or deliver it to the Foundation Office in Blake Hall. A written or emailed signature of approval of your supervisor (staff) or the Vice President of Academic & Student Affairs (faculty) must be included. Additional materials will be accepted.
- Foundation Scholarship/Grant Review Committee reviews proposals and may contact applicants for additional information, if necessary.
